

U.S. Cash Equity Fight for Share of Wallet

2018 Greenwich Leaders: U.S. Equities

July 12, 2018

Executive Summary:

The pool of commissions earned by brokers on trades of U.S. equities within the Greenwich Associates universe contracted another 9% last year to an estimated $7.65 billion. That drop marked the fourth consecutive year of decline. The total commissions collected by brokers on trades of U.S. equities has dropped over one-third since 2011.

“Taking share is pivotal for brokers in the ‘zero-sum’ business of U.S. cash equities, as the continued passive investing, lower-cost electronic trading and modest volatility constrain volumes and commission generation,” says Greenwich Associates Managing Director Jay Bennett.

In this light, J.P. Morgan, Morgan Stanley, Goldman Sachs, and Bank of America Merrill Lynch rank as the 2018 Greenwich Share LeadersSM, besting all rivals across four U.S. equity categories.

The 2018 Greenwich Share Leaders in U.S. Equity Trading are J.P. Morgan in the top spot, followed by Morgan Stanley, and then Goldman Sachs and Bank of America Merrill Lynch, which are statistically tied for third place.

In the increasingly important category of U.S. Equity Algo Trading, J.P. Morgan tops the list by a wide margin over Morgan Stanley and Bank of America Merrill Lynch.

Looking at the Portfolio Trading Share with more dedicated investors, a group of four are statistically tied for first: Bank of America Merrill Lynch, J.P. Morgan, Morgan Stanley, and Goldman Sachs.
