

November Spotlight: New Issuance and Volume Drop, E-Trading Hits New Record (Again)

November Data Spotlight: U.S. Credit

November 15, 2019

Executive Summary:

November 2019

Key Takeaways for October 2019:

- Electronic trading of investment-grade names hit a new record high in October, while total market average daily volume dropped below the year-to-date average.
- The proportion of ATS volume as reported to TRACE hit a record high for 2019, accounting for just shy of 6% of total market volume.
- New issuance in October was at its lowest level of the year, reinforcing the belief that last month's huge bump in activity was an anomaly and not a trend.

Methodology:

Greenwich Associates continuously gathers data and insights from credit market participants, including market makers, primary dealers and trading platforms. The data, once aggregated, normalized and enhanced, is analyzed by our market structure research team who identify the key trends of trading in the credit markets, with a focus on corporate bond electronic trading and trading platform market share.

Coalition Greenwich, a division of CRISIL, an S&P Global Company, is a leading global provider of strategic benchmarking, analytics and insights to the financial services industry.

The data contained in the Document is based upon a particular bank's scope, which reflects a bank's data submission, business structure, and sales revenue Reporting methodology. As a result, any data contained in the Document may not be directly comparable to data presented to another bank. For franchise benchmarking, Crisil Coalition Greenwich has implemented equal ranking logic on aggregate results i.e., when sales revenues are within 5% of at least one competitor ahead, a tie is shown and designated by = (where actual ranks are shown). Entity level data has no equal ranking logic implemented and therefore, on occasion, the differences between rank bands can be very close mathematically.

The data in this Document may reflect the views reported to Crisil Coalition Greenwich by the research participants. Interviewees may be asked about their use of and demand for financial products and services and about investment practices in relevant financial markets. Crisil Coalition Greenwich compiles the data received, conducts statistical analysis and reviews for presentation purposes to produce the final results.
