2019 Greenwich Leaders: Global Fixed Income

February 19, 2020

Executive Summary:

Fixed-income dealers' response to long-term challenges facing the industry could be working to the advantage of global investors. As most banks around the globe face pressure to increase profitability, they are increasingly competing among a small set of dealers, new liquidity providers and, to some extent, electronic trading platforms for a share of existing clients' volumes and revenues. That competition is fueling innovation by banks seeking an edge over rivals and benefiting investors in the form of new and better digital products and tools.

Methodology:

Interview topics included service provider assessments, trading practices, market trend analysis, and investor compensation.

Interviewees may be asked about their use of and demand for financial products and services and about investment practices in relevant financial markets. Greenwich Associates compiles the data received, conducts statistical analysis and reviews for presentation purposes in order to produce the final results.
