

Globalization Fuels Growing Demand for Trade Finance

December 12, 2014

Executive Summary:

Trade finance activity is on the rise among companies around the world, driven by the expansion of European and U.S. firms into international markets and the continued surge in trading among companies within the broad Asian region.

Asia remains the hub of global trade and as such a key driver of trade finance activity. Approximately two-thirds of large companies around the world use trade finance services related to commerce in Asia.

That share increased five percentage points from 2013 to 2014. Fifty-seven percent of large European companies need trade finance in Asia, as do 64% of the largest U.S. companies.

Methodology:

From April to June of 2014, Greenwich Associates conducted 423 interviews in trade finance with financial officers (e.g., CFOs, finance directors and treasurers) at companies in Asia, 297 in Europe and 168 in the U.S. Subjects covered included product demand, quality of coverage, and capabilities in specific product areas.

The data reported in this document reflect solely the views reported to Greenwich Associates by the research participants. Interviewees may be asked about their use of and demand for financial products and services and about investment practices in relevant financial markets. Greenwich Associates compiles the data received, conducts statistical analysis and reviews for presentation purposes in order to produce the final results. Unless otherwise indicated, any opinions or market observations made are strictly our own.

Our suite of analytics and insights encompass all key performance metrics and drivers: market share, revenue performance, client relationship share and quality, operational excellence, return on equity, behavioral drivers, and industry evolution.

For franchise benchmarking, Crisil Coalition Greenwich has implemented equal ranking logic on aggregate results i.e., when sales revenues are within 5% of at least one competitor ahead, a tie is shown and designated by = (where actual ranks are shown). Entity level data has no equal ranking logic implemented and therefore, on occasion, the differences between rank bands can be very close mathematically.
