

2015 United States Institutional Investors - Money in Motion

May 12, 2016

Executive Summary:

The “Money-in-Motion” analysis is based on the reported hiring expectations of institutional investors across a range of asset classes, including traditional and alternatives products and active and passive mandates. The report seeks to address three dynamics:

1. Where are institutional asset flows going?
2. Who is driving institutional asset flows (by channel)?
3. Where are the largest revenue opportunities, and where will interest be weakest?

Methodology:

From July to October 2015, Greenwich Associates conducted in-person interviews with 1,341 institutional investors from 1,128 of the largest tax-exempt funds in the United States. These U.S.-based institutional investors are corporate and union funds, public funds, endowment and foundation funds and healthcare organizations, with either pension or investment pool assets greater than $150 million.

The Document is not an investment analysis or research and is not subject to regulatory or legal obligations on the production of, or content of, investment analysis or research.

The data contained in the Document is based upon a particular bank's scope, which reflects a bank's data submission, business structure, and sales revenue Reporting methodology. As a result, any data contained in the Document may not be directly comparable to data presented to another bank. For franchise benchmarking, Crisil Coalition Greenwich has implemented equal ranking logic on aggregate results i.e., when sales revenues are within 5% of at least one competitor ahead, a tie is shown and designated by = (where actual ranks are shown). Entity level data has no equal ranking logic implemented and therefore, on occasion, the differences between rank bands can be very close mathematically.

The data in this Document may reflect the views reported to Crisil Coalition Greenwich by the research participants. Interviewees may be asked about their use of and demand for financial products and services and about investment practices in relevant financial markets. Crisil Coalition Greenwich compiles the data received, conducts statistical analysis and reviews for presentation purposes to produce the final results.
