

MiFID II is Here: How Investment Managers Have Prepared

January 9, 2018

Executive Summary:

After millions of hours and euros (and dollars) spent in preparation, the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive II (MiFID II) has finally taken effect. Greenwich Associates has tracked market participant sentiment and preparation for the last two years, watching the tide turn numerous times. While the rules have officially been in effect since January 3rd, it will likely be many months until the market coalesces around standards, best practices and operating models. At this point, though, we have a good grasp of how the buy side has set up to comply and thrive with the regulatory changes being foisted upon them.

Methodology:

In November 2017 Greenwich Associates conducted online interviews with 39 European and 21 U.S MiFID II-compliant institutions and 49 U.S. firms that will not/do not need to be compliant with MiFID II. We spoke with buy-side equity head traders, appropriate senior management and/or broker liaisons.

As a result, any data contained in the Document may not be directly comparable to data presented to another bank. For franchise benchmarking, Crisil Coalition Greenwich has implemented equal ranking logic on aggregate results i.e., when sales revenues are within 5% of at least one competitor ahead, a tie is shown and designated by = (where actual ranks are shown). Entity level data has no equal ranking logic implemented and therefore, on occasion, the differences between rank bands can be very close mathematically.

Interviewees may be asked about their use of and demand for financial products and services and about investment practices in relevant financial markets.
